Patiyala

The King is besotted with her. With her looks, with her mannerisms and with the way she dresses. Her portrait is imprinted in the recesses of his heart and soul. He wants to marry her and bring her to his palace. But he hesitates. Because even his palace with all its splendour is inadequate for someone so divine. He dreams, and sometimes pines for her.

A woman with long, wavy brown hair is modeling a green Patiyala kurta. The kurta has a V-neckline with a decorative gold and green striped border. It features a wide, ornate gold and green floral border at the hem. She is also wearing matching green Patiyala pants with a large, vibrant floral pattern in shades of blue, green, and gold. A long, flowing dupatta with the same floral pattern is draped over her left arm. She is wearing white high-heeled sandals and large, ornate earrings. The background is a classical building facade with a bust of a woman on the left and a vase of pink flowers on the right. The Patiyala logo is visible in the top left corner.
