

A still life composition featuring a variety of autumnal items. At the top, there are clusters of small orange berries and a pomegranate cut open to reveal its seeds. Below these are several flowers, including pink and red carnations, a yellow rose, and a large pink orchid. In the center, there is a large, textured, light-colored object that looks like a cluster of small flowers or a piece of fabric. To the right, there are several purple grapes and a whole orange. The background is dark, making the colors of the items stand out.
