DESIGNED FOR ANGELS

Two smaller images of the woman in the red tunic. The left image shows her wearing sunglasses and holding them, while the right image shows her without sunglasses, looking directly at the camera.

The patterns, lines, shades and contours of our life have been designed by the very masters of the land. Some say that the craftsmen used sand and did not wish to part with his precious spurs. When asked why, he said, "my greatest creation needs to be worn only by angels." Today, this garment, made for angels, we can surely be yours forever.

A PICTURE OF POISE

Every photographer across the world is flummoxed. Their lenses can only capture a fraction of her beauty. Because her charm is so all encompassing, so magnificent, so profound, the most skilled photographers fall short. Must blame her dress...which is glorious in every respect.

THE GLOWING DAMSELS

For many years past they had been in a world where all is heavenly. They belong to an age which was truly golden. Whatever the world had lost is contained in their beams and in their smile, which shines with the purest gold.

BEAUTY SANS BOUNDARIES

glance of her brings joy to the parched heart. A few precious moments with her brings utter bliss. There are no limits to the countless she brings as she walks down the road, resplendent in her radiant attire. She is a beauty without parallel, and her beauty intensifies without boundaries.

INTERNATIONAL CHARM

He is Zohra in look, in spirit, at least, even in dress. But her beauty is as big a rage abroad as it is at home. In the sands of Zandah, in the waters of Venice, in the streets of the Moslem East, in the bylines of Paris, her name is remembered with fondness and with glow.
