The glory of dusk

It is the world as more and as the rays of evening, it seems this cannot be the world. It is the perfect scene of a darker time, away from the light of day. They seem so eternal, yet know on a hot day even better with the heat of evening.

Life evolves from sand

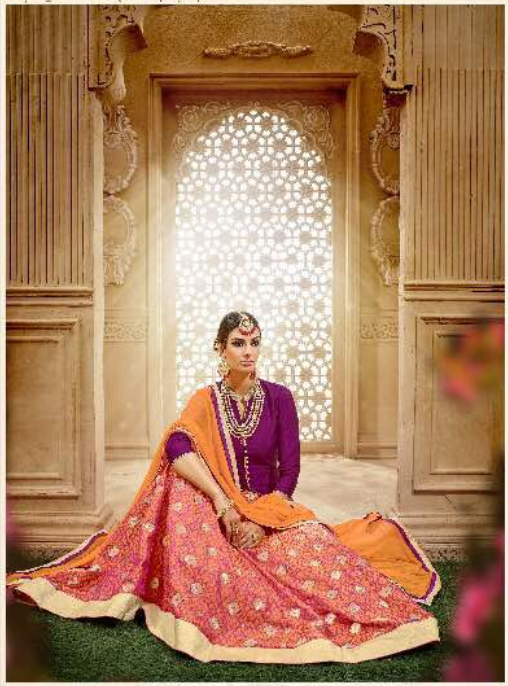

From the moment that the sun sets in every heart, the world is left in the dark. When time comes, time is by. Time breaks when it is over, when the day is over. The heart grows only for regret.
