A woman is standing in front of a light-colored building with arched windows and doorways. She is wearing a traditional Indian Palkhi Patola saree. The saree is primarily blue with a red border and a wide yellow and red border. It features intricate geometric patterns in red, black, and white. The blouse is red with a gold border. She is also wearing a gold necklace, earrings, bangles, and a gold belt. She is holding a gold circular object in her hands. The background is a checkered floor and a building with a window.
