A photograph of the same woman from the first image, now sitting on a wooden log on a light-colored, textured surface. She is wearing the same yellow and pink lehenga. Above her, the brand name 'anaara' is written in a stylized font. In the top right corner, the page number '76' is stacked above '08'. A quote is centered above the brand name: "A lehenga is a symphony of fabrics, embellishments, and emotions, creating a melody of elegance and confidence." The background is a bright blue sky with soft white clouds.
